

Dividing Headfirst into Summer

Greetings from a very busy Nablus where summer programming is in full swing! It feels great to have the beating heart of the community back in the building for Core Program classes, MEPI literacy trainings, community English classes, and Triple Exposure art classes. TYO also looks forward to expanding programming throughout the West Bank through new field days and mural painting. Join the fun =>

Welcome Summer 2011 Interns!

Seven recent graduates and young professionals will bring an array of experiences to our team and help TYO reach thousands of community members. Meet the interns =>

Mural Painting at El-Ein Girls' School

This week, TYO presented its work in the West Bank and Lebanon at the Partners for a New Beginning \(PNB\) Summit, hosted by Aspen Institute. PNB is a State Department initiative designed to facilitate public-private partnerships between institutions in the US and Muslim world. Read more about summit events as well as TYO's participation and catch a special report from TYO's Director published on Palestine Note ==>

TYO Director, Nell Derick Debevoise (left), pictured with US State Department's Special Representative to Muslim Communities, Farah Pandith (right), announces TYO's commitment to expanded programming and services for women at the PNB Summit in Washington, DC June 1, 2011.

Proud mural artists at El-Ein Boys' School